

Underfloor heating circuit - connecting a Clearflow pump

Kamco

With this type of system, a CP2 adaptor could be used to connect power flushing pump, after isolating underfloor circuits from the rest of the heating system. Flush each circuit individually by isolating other circuits one at a time using individual circuit valves.